Your toddler could be eligible to participate in our virtual language development study!

Is my child’s language delayed?

Here are some language milestones for:

2 years old
- Uses at least 50 words
- Uses some two-word phrases

2.5 years old
- Uses at least 200 words (boys) or 300 words (girls)
- Uses two- and three-word phrases

About the Nationwide Study

Researchers from Northwestern, Vanderbilt, and University of Illinois are partnering to understand more about language growth in children experiencing a language delay.

All families that reach out will receive a book of strategies for supporting language growth and a summary of their child’s language skills.

Families who participate will also receive some or all of the following: therapy, compensation, an iPad, virtual assessments every three months, and summaries of their child’s language growth.

Should I reach out?

Age
Child is younger than 31 months old

Language Delay
You are concerned about your child’s language development

Diagnoses
Child has no other diagnosis that influences their development

Language
You use only English with your child

Take a survey about your child’s language development and learn more!

Text MORE to 847.750.3440

(MPs Haeckey, P., Kaiser, A., & Roberts, M); ClinicalTrials.gov ID: NCT03782493; STUD0000758

Here are some language milestones for:

2 years old
- Uses at least 50 words
- Uses some two-word phrases

2.5 years old
- Uses at least 200 words (boys) or 300 words (girls)
- Uses two- and three-word phrases

Researchers from Northwestern, Vanderbilt, and University of Illinois are partnering to understand more about language growth in children experiencing a language delay.

All families that reach out will receive a book of strategies for supporting language growth and a summary of their child’s language skills.

Families who participate will also receive some or all of the following: therapy, compensation, an iPad, virtual assessments every three months, and summaries of their child’s language growth.

Age
Child is younger than 31 months old

Language Delay
You are concerned about your child’s language development

Diagnoses
Child has no other diagnosis that influences their development

Language
You use only English with your child

Take a survey about your child’s language development and learn more!

Text MORE to 847.750.3440

(MPs Haeckey, P., Kaiser, A., & Roberts, M); ClinicalTrials.gov ID: NCT03782493; STUD0000758